Why We Give

Your bequest ensures that the Alaska SeaLife Center meets our goals tomorrow without affecting your assets today. Your gift can contribute to an endowment to support the mission of the Alaska SeaLife Center long after your lifetime.

Leave a Legacy

The mission of the Alaska SeaLife Center is to promote understanding and stewardship of Alaska's marine ecosystems. You can be part of this important work by making a gift through your estate plans. A planned gift allows you to support our work after your lifetime so future generations can continue to enjoy the bounty of Alaska's oceans.

How to Give

Anyone, regardless of age or financial status, can create a legacy gift to the Alaska SeaLife Center. Making a charitable gift in this way can be as easy as naming the Alaska SeaLife Center in your will or trust. You may also name the Center as a beneficiary of your life insurance policy, bank accounts, or retirement accounts. In many cases, you should be able to request a change of beneficiary form from your plan administrator without any attorney fees.

Alaska SeaLife Legacy Society

We are grateful to those who support the Alaska SeaLife Center through a planned gift. Through your gift, you are ensuring that future generations will learn about and care for Alaska's oceans. The Alaska SeaLife Legacy Society is our way of saying "thank you" for having foresight and dedication to help us continue our mission.

When you notify us about your gift, we will enroll you in the Alaska SeaLife Legacy Society. There are no dues or obligations associated with this special group. As a member, you will receive invitations to our annual Alaska Marine Gala and other special events. You will also be recognized in our annual report and in e-newsletters unless you choose to remain anonymous. In either case, demonstrating your commitment encourages others to follow.

The decision to include the Alaska SeaLife Center in your estate plans is a deeply personal issue. All communications you have with our staff about planned giving is strictly confidential.

We strongly encourage you to consult with your financial planner and/or attorney when exploring options for leaving a bequest.
